SQL Server objects. Support for ALTER DATABASE ENCRYPTION clause in Transact-SQL statements. How to use SQL Server Encryption: Follow these steps to start SQL Server Encryption: Create a SQL Server user account. On the SQL Server Management Studio (SSMS) logon screen, select SQL Server Encryption as the authentication mode. Make sure that the local database user who will use this account has appropriate SQL Server permissions. Connect to the database using the account that was created in step 1. Use ALTER DATABASE to encrypt the database. At the database server, under the SQL Server objects folder, there should be a folder named Encryption. Inside this folder is the dbo.syssschrm.exe utility to perform encryption and decryption actions on SQL Server databases.
