The future of a changed Mars is in your hands. Stop at nothing. Things are heating up below-and this time it's not your fault. It's time to look to the future with new eyes. The growing habitats will be the first to come under pressure, but new research technologies could be the salvation to the first colonists. Through your research and decisions, you could be the savior or the doom of Mars. The fate of the human race now lies in your hands. A changed Mars awaits you, scientists, pioneers, and colonists. It is a future that you have shaped, and a future that you are still shaping. Just remember… the new world is always warmer, wetter, and more oppressive. You must make sure that it is suited to your kind of life. The new humanity will be you. You are a part of the new human race now. Key Features Recon, Control, and Expand - Construction is at the heart of Surviving Mars: Players can build habitable structures. With the variety of available buildings, players can for every imaginable need. Build a farm and expand to house more colonists. Or, build a garrison to fend off attacks and prepare for the next wave of colonists. Construct a landing pad to send your spacecraft or return the initial colonists. Using the Construction Tree and dynamic upgrades, players can develop and customize each base as their needs change. Choose your base and choose your path. Base and Vehicle Upgrades: New research modules will unlock the ability to build more efficient colonies, diverse habitats, custom vehicles and special units. The Age of Exploration has begun. Explore the depths of Mars. Back to the Base – Colony development is centered around the base's comprehensive construction tree. Players can unlock and customize a Colony by building the number of structures required, and from there, can choose to expand vertically or horizontally into other structures. Mine Your Own Business – With the new extraction system, players can mine resources from passing asteroids, using either the standard construction tree, or a special new extraction system. Build the Future of Human Space Exploration – Players can develop and customize their base with a new construction system and vehicle upgrades. These new advancements can be expanded and applied as the colony's needs change, with new technologies allowing players to explore and develop a base to their specifications. All of the decisions made here will determine the final outcome of this colony. Back to the Bases - Expand your colony

As part of the game, you can experience the exciting gameplay for free on the ios app. Buy the game version for PC to enjoy the full story, alternate dialogue and an extra ending unlocked with gems collected from the demo. Discover the Epic Viking World of the North Game Summary: The Vikings come back from the Cold Darkness to repel an attack from a distant dark land. Hoping to conquer the living daylights out of this cold north, the Vikings come back to the foggy, misty, sizzling lands. They have been staying there for a long time now, they built their village, far from the reach of any human - or demigod for that matter - to rule over. They are brave and tough, a lot of Vikings were even called demigods. However, the fear of the unknown was still keeping them away from travelling beyond the foggy, misty lands - not that there wasn't any human settlement, but it was far away. They were the only ones in the world among these lands - maybe even few. The Vikings decided to conquer a nearby settlement to start a new life here. However, the settlement was actually guarded by a strange cloud-like demigod. The Vikings dug through the caves to find out the truth of what that demigod was. The demigod created a mystical fog and created an illusion of darkness for the Vikings. While the Vikings were still wondering what was that demigod hiding. That demigod then made the Vikings gave up. And the Vikings left the place, leaving that demigod behind. Now the demigod was left alone to roam around the lands. The Vikings have forgotten the village and their beautiful beautiful land. Now it's a demon's time to attack the beautiful Viking village and kill them all. The waiting has been for long. What's new in Aloe And Cal:

(2012) Both movies are predictable slashers. The plot device and leads are fairly familiar. The production values and cinematography are on par. A woman cursed to turn into a monster every day. She has to feed on blood to avoid immediate death. Her dead boyfriend comes back to haunt her. A retired professor that has to pick up a snack while he's on his way home. It could be a good movie. Neither movie works though. Only Deadly Night is worth a watch. Under the bright lights, there's a good story. It's down to earth and the stakes are totally human. It has a few great jokes. The issues is in the execution of the plot. All this is dumped in you head immediately and there's not enough time to process it. Characters are introduced and forgotten, plot points are glossed over, and the scares are formulaic. This is a movie written for people that are bored with their lives. They're stuck in a repetitive job, caught in a cycle of bad habits. You get this satisfaction that not many other movies give. And how a good movie can go bad in the space of 30 minutes. Sometimes they bring in solid acting and the lead is good. Sometimes the lead is bad and the dialogue is just awful. There's some good imagery in this one, mostly from explosive explosions. Deadly Night - No Escape has Kevin Bacon, Edward Furlong, and Bruce Davison.Q: RGB to HSV on Matlab I need to convert this image into HSV format. This is what I've tried: RGB= imread('C:\Users\adib\Desktop\photo\DSC_0074.JPG'); [r, g, b] = rgb2hsv([r/255 G/255 b/255],1.0, 1.0,0.0); And then imshow(r),imshow(g),imshow(b).. The error I got is "The dimensions of the image array must be a multiple of the block size" A: RGB conversion to HSV can be easily accomplished as follows: %# Read grayscale image RGB = imread(fullfile('/Users/shubham08/Desktop/photo','DSC_0074.JPG')); %#

Q-YO Blaster is a shooter with a funny side. It makes use of the controls of the Retro Visualizer Keyboard, while refreshing the Anime game scene, with plenty of contents, that does not take long to be seen. The story is a classic one with a touch of the humor. The Project Leader is the artist who has created the original source code of this project, but he is not an engineer. Q-YO Blaster uses the Retro Visualizer Keyboard. I have had the chance to make interactive parodies of famous games. They use the Raspberry Pi Zero, which also has abilities to display a clock and a light bulb. The goal is to release Q-YO Blaster, so that it may be used for the exhibition or finally for the video games market. The game development is done in Fusion 360, Unity and exported to Scirra Blocks, but the source code was exported in FBX to be able to give the original graphics in case of publish on steam. If the game is successful, I will work on the retro level that is really complicated, but I have really loved since I was a child. The idea is to create the best retro game ever made ??, but it is not the case. My idea is to create the first game in the simulation of a public transport facility. The game and the source code are completely free, with the only intent is to be able to make the project happen. If the project has a lot of merit, I'll aim to submit the project to the Crowdfunding Platform and launch the video game market. This is a project based on an original idea, so this will need a lot of work, but in my opinion it is worth it. Thanks you for your attention. FAVORITE GAMES Screen Shots Description Introduction Q-YO Blaster is a horizontal Shoot 'Em Up, with peculiar characters, strange enemies, bullets, many bullets and many explosions. Enter the miniature world and stop the threat. Enjoy the rudeness with weapons, special powers and help from mystical beings.
